A NEW TITLE FOR MONOGRAPHIC ISSUES OF MEDICINE

TOPICS in MEDICINE provides current and comprehensive information on focused health topics. Each issue:

- is devoted to a selected topic, presented from a variety of perspectives,
- has an editor(s) with a team of authors selected by the editor(s),
- on average has seven or eight articles (in English language),
- has international standard serial number (ISSN), international standard book number (ISBN), and distribution by www.clu.it

The scientific periodical is indexed in Elsevier Bibliographic Databases and is present in the catalogue of the National Library of Medicine of Bethesda (USA) and of the British Library (GB).

TOPICS in MEDICINE encourages experts and representatives of the medical world TO SUGGEST TOPICS for the monographic issues and TO BE EDITORS of the publication which they will “supervise” together with the journal staff, once the project has been approved. After the personal invitation to the authors by editor(s), the journal staff handles all contacts with the contributing authors and assembles the volume.

THE PRIMARY CRITERION FOR PUBLICATION IS THAT THE MANUSCRIPT SHOULD CONTRIBUTE TO A NEW OR MORE INTEGRATED PERSPECTIVE ON A SIGNIFICANT HEALTH THEME.
